I, Brian Nishi, declare:

24

1. I am a former employee of Fox Ortega Enterprises, Inc., dba Premier Cru and have been retained to assist the Trustee in the above-captioned case by preparing reports as requested

25

26 by the Trustee or his counsel. The following facts are true of my own personal knowledge and if

27 called upon to do so, would and could competently testify thereto, except as to those matters that are alleged upon information and belief and as to those matters, I believe them to be true.

28

1 2. I have worked for FOX ORTEGA ENTERPRISES, INC., dba PREMIER CRU
2 (“Debtor”) for approximately 20 years, and have been the in-house “IT Technician” since 2008.

3 3. I have worked in different areas of the Debtor’s business. When I started working 4 for the Debtor, I worked in the warehouse, assisting with the receipt and shipping of the wine.
5 Thereafter, I moved to customer service. Then when Premier Cru purchased a new computer
6 system called Sage MAS500 (“MAS”), developed by Sage Software. I taught myself how to use
7 the program, and eventually became the IT expert at Premier Cru because I knew how all of the 8 computer programs worked.

9 4. I am familiar with the Debtor’s normal business practices and how business records
10 were created and maintained, and know what information was kept electronically, what reports
11 can be generated, and what material information is not in the electronic records, such as the status 12 of certain pending purchase orders. I also know how the Debtor maintained its records, who had 13 access to change the records, and how the business records were used and maintained in the 14 ordinary course of business. As the IT Technician, I oversaw the maintenance of the business 15 records electronic system.

16 5. I have reviewed the Debtor’s accounting systems and records and have determined, 17 to the best of my knowledge and belief, the following: (i) there are 78,809 bottles of wine at 18 Premier Cru; (ii) of those bottles 5,007 are not associated with a buyer and are “Available” as 19 defined below; (iii) 22,855 are “Oversubscribed” as defined below; and (iv) 5,245 are 20 “Segregated” as defined below.

21 6. The following descriptions of the Debtor’s operations are based on my personal 22 knowledge and recollection, and the general procedures as I know them. The facts set forth herein 23 reflect the normal procedures followed with regard to the information that was entered and 24 maintained in the Debtor’s computer systems MAS and Accellos. I am informed and believe that 25 in general the employees complied with the normal procedures as stated herein, but I have no
26 personal information as to whether all employees complied with normal procedures all of the time.

27 7. MAS was an accounting software that tracked consumer purchases and Premier 28 Cru’s purchases of wine from its vendors or agents in the ordinary course of business. In 2003,

1 Premier Cru purchased MAS from a company called Accounting Micro Systems. During the first
2 year of operations, a CPA firm called Accounting Micro assisted Premier Cru with inputting data.
3 Eventually I learned how to operate MAS, and became the IT technician in the office.

4 8. Premier Cru also had a warehouse computer program called the Accellos One 5 Warehouse Management Software (“Accellos”) that tracked all of the wines in and out of the 6 warehouse that was installed in 2008. After Accellos was installed, my role as an IT technician
7 became more of a full time job.

8 9. In addition, Premier Cru had an online ordering program that would allow 9 customers to purchase products online through the MAS system. The system would generate an 10 automatic email providing one of several forms for communicating with the customer..

11 10. From time to time, Premier Cru would email its customers a list of wines that were 12 available. Customers were advised that some of the wines that were available were in stock, but 13 many of them were not in stock at the time, and were called “Pre-Arrivals”,” i.e. wine offered in 14 advance of their arrival in the marketplace. I am informed and believe that Customers were 15 advised that Premier Cru specialized in obtaining high quality wine at an excellent price, and as a 16 result, its customers were willing to wait until a wine was received at some point in the future even 17 though the customers were not informed when exactly that would happened.

18 11. Attached hereto as Exhibit A is a true and correct copy of the Terms and 19 Conditions portion of the website, which indicates that it was printed out on January 13, 2016.
20 Attached hereto as Exhibit B is a true and correct copy of the Shipping Information taken from 21 the Premier Cru website, which indicates that it was printed out on January 12, 2016.

22 12. If a customer placed an order online, the MAS system would cause an email to be 23 automatically generated by an email program informing the customer that the order had been 24 received, and would be reviewed, but not processed at the time. The email advised the customer
25 that once they determined that the there was sufficient quantities of wine on hand or expected
26 based upon the amount ordered by Premier Cru, the customer’s order would be processed.

27 Attached hereto as Exhibit C is a true and correct copy of a sample email confirmation that would 28 be sent to a customer after an online purchase.

1 13. Once the customer's order was reviewed and it was determined that there was a
2 sufficient quantity of bottles in stock (for the in stock orders) or anticipated for a Pre-Arrival
3 order, the order could be processed, the customer's credit card charged, and a Sales Order would 4 be sent to the customer confirming that the order had been placed and their credit card charged.
5 Attached hereto as Exhibit D is a true and correct copy of a sample Sales Order. Sales would be 6 entered into MAS in the ordinary course of business, and would be entered at the time the sale was 7 made.

8 14. Customers who purchased wine from the email notification of the sale could 9 sometimes choose between a wine that was in stock, and one that was a Pre-Arrival. When a
10 customer placed any order, a customer service representative at Premier Cru would look in MAS
11 to find out how many bottles were available to determine if orders exceeded the amount that MAS
12 showed was available. The customer service representative would notify the customer if the wine 13 was sold out, and the order would not be processed.

14 15. Customers were informed that if they wanted wine to be shipped they had to notify 15 Premier Cru after the Sales Order was issued. To the best of my knowledge, no customer was 16 ever charged a storage fee, and some customers left the wine in the warehouse for more than 6
17 months, some of them for years.

18 16. Customers could arrange to pick up their wine year round. There were periods of 19 time that wine would normally not have been shipped to any customers, primarily due to weather.
20 Weather was always a factor in shipping wine. The most frequent time that wine was shipped was 21 in the fall and spring. For example, if the wine was shipped to Florida in the summer, there was a 22 high probability that it could overheat during the shipping process; therefore, Premier Cru would 23 normally not have shipped to Florida in the summer. Once wine left Premier Cru, Premier Cru 24 was not responsible for any damage that may occur to the wine.

25 17. When Premier Cru received a wine shipment in the warehouse an email was 26 generated informing customers that the wine had arrived and asking them if they wanted the wine 27 shipped to them, and requesting credit card information for shipping. Attached hereto as 28 Exhibit E is a true and correct sample of such an email. There was a period of time when this

1 type of email was generated automatically, and then the automatic function ceased operating. The 2 automatic notification was reactivated sometime in 2015.

3 18. Some customers did not respond to the request to arrange to have the wines
4 shipped. I assume that is because they preferred to keep their wines in the warehouse, since 5 Premier Cru effectively provided free storage. When a customer wanted wine to be shipped, they 6 would contact Customer Service, and Customer Service would create an entry on a scheduling
7 calendar that they shared with the warehouse department. The warehouse staff would then create
8 a “Pick List” using the in-stock location indicators memorialized in Accellos, and the Pick List 9 which would include any special instructions as to when the customer wanted the wine shipped or 10 whether the customer was going to pick up the wine. Premier Cru did its best to comply with the 11 customers’ requests if the wine was in stock, and requests were generally processed in the order of 12 receipt on most occasions. A true and correct copy of a Pick List is attached hereto as Exhibit F.

13 19. Since a limited number of employees could pull wine at any one time to fulfill a
14 Pick List from the warehouse and prepare the wine for transport, Premier Cru required 72 hours
15 between when the request was made and when it could have the wine ready for pick up or transfer
16 to the carrier. There were times when Premier Cru could not accommodate all shipping requests 17 during peak periods.

18 20. After the wine was pulled from general inventory and placed in boxes ready to be 19 shipped pursuant to the instructions on the Pick List, it would be inspected before a carrier or 20 customer picked up the box. At the point of inspection, damaged bottles were noted, and 21 customers were called to verify that they still wanted the wine given its damaged status. Some 22 customers would accept the wine, and others would not. It depended on the damage and each 23 customer’s personal preference.

24 21. When the wine was picked up by a carrier (usually UPS or Federal Express), the 25 carrier would send the customer an email with the tracking number. Some customers arranged for 26 third party wine carriers to pick up their wine.

27 22. The warehouse department monitored the wine through Accellos which allowed the 28 company to track the whereabouts of every bottle of wine upon scanning it. The Debtor’s

1 warehouse space is very large and contains many metal shelves. The wine is stored on the shelves
2 in boxes, usually the boxes in which the wine came into the warehouse. Each shelf has a bar
3 coded sticker, and each box is given a bar coded sticker. When wine is placed on the shelf or 4 removed from the shelf, the box and shelf are scanned with a device that transfers that information
5 to Accellos, and allows someone to immediately locate the shelf and box that a bottle of wine is 6 in.

7 23. When Premier Cru received a shipment, all of the wine was maintained in boxes
8 from the winery (or other source that the wine came from such as a distributor), and all wine of the 9 same variety, winery, and year that came in the boxes would be placed on the same shelf, 10 regardless of how many people ordered the wine or how many bottles of wine were ordered, or 11 whether a full or partial case was ordered. For example, if 30 people ordered 89 bottles of 2011
12 Ermitage l’Ermitte, Chapoutier, assuming the bottles arrived at the same time, all 89 bottles would 13 be maintained together in boxes on the same shelf. The boxes were generally not opened until it
14 was time to pull a bottle to be shipped to a customer at their request pursuant to a Pick List
15 request. Wine was not segregated by customer name, but maintained in general inventory.

16 24. If a box was opened to pull bottles for a Pick List, the remaining bottles were 17 supposed to be labeled with a bar code and the number of bottles removed would be entered so 18 that there was a record of how many bottles remained.

19 25. The Pick List would tell the warehouse employees the name of the customer and 20 which bottles that customer had requested be shipped. It was not uncommon for a customer to 21 request only a few bottles be sent to them for their consumption.

22 26. Once the wine was pulled and placed in boxes pursuant to the Pick List and 23 inspected for shipping, a customer’s credit card was run for the shipping costs, and a Packing List 24 with tracking information, and a shipping invoice were placed in the box, and the box sealed, and 25 labeled, and eventually shipped. A true and correct copy of a sample Packing List is attached
26 hereto as Exhibit G.

27 27. MAS showed the shipment request as pending until it was shipped.. Generally,
28 the day after the wine was shipped to the customer an employee made an entry into the system

1 showing that the bottle shipped was committed .For carriers other than UPS or FedEx it could
2 take a little longer for an employee to make the entry

3 28. If multiple customers ordered the same wine around the same time, and a bottle 4 was allocated to the first customer, but a second customer requested delivery, the bottle might be 5 sent to the second customer, if the first customer did not request delivery. Later, when that first 6 customer requested their wine, another bottle would be obtained, if it had not already been 7 replaced. In the normal course of business, the wine would be received from the original vendor as 8 per the original Purchase Order in MAS500. If the wine took too long to arrive or did not come in 9 then it would be replaced from another source. Sometimes the replacement vendor was a merchant
10 in Europe similar to the original vendor and sometimes it would be a retailer in the U.S. Bottles 11 could be purchased from other sources if necessary.

12 29. Customers were provided with online access to their account through a website 13 program. The customer could go online at any time to see what wines they had purchased, and 14 whether their wines were in stock in a profile page (“Profile”). Changes to customers’ wine in 15 stock as described in paragraph 28, were not updated on the customer’s website profile.

16 30. Customers were allowed to change their orders at any time for any reason until the 17 wine was shipped. If they wanted to exchange the wine that was listed under their name,
18 regardless of whether it was in the warehouse or not, Premier Cru allowed them to choose another
19 wine. Essentially, they would get a credit for the wine that they had originally purchased, and use
20 that for another wine. There was no limitation on when they could change their mind. Attached
21 hereto as Exhibit H is a true and correct copy of an invoice that shows that this customer used a 22 credit presumably for wine that was exchanged to purchase wine. Exchanges were made at any 23 time for any reason.

24 31. Premier Cru took responsibility for the condition of wine until the wine was 25 shipped to the customer. Generally the wine was maintained in boxes that were not opened until it 26 was time to ship the wine. If the customer had ordered a full case the box may never be opened by 27 Premier Cru until it was to be shipped. Boxes were opened for review and inspection before 28 shipping. If there were any signs that the bottles were not in perfect condition the customer was

1 given a choice as to whether they wanted to accept the wine, receive a refund, obtain a credit, or 2 trade for another wine. For example, if the label was torn some customers would not want the 3 wine because they looked at the wine as an investment or hoped to resell the wine in the future,
4 and wanted a pristine label. Other customers were going to drink the wine themselves, and did not
5 care if the label was torn. If the wine bottles were leaking or otherwise spoiled customers were 6 given a credit for the wine, and were not compelled to take the wine even though Premier Cru did 7 not cause the damage to the wine.

8 32. Orders were placed either by an online process or customers called Premier Cru.
9 When customers called Premier Cru, a customer service representative would take the order 10 information and credit card information, and the customer service representative would enter the 11 order information into the MAS system. Once an order had been placed the customer service 12 representative was not supposed to change the entry without permission from John Fox or the 13 bookkeeper.

14 33. The MAS system could also be used by Premier Cru to track orders placed by 15 Premier Cru for wine from wineries or distributors, but only John Fox had authority to enter that 16 information (although there were a few exceptions made for some of the longtime employees who 17 had developed relationships with certain wineries towards the end of Premier Cru's operations).
18 Not all orders were entered into the system. I am informed and believe that additional information
19 as to wines ordered was maintained by John Fox on a separate computer.

20 34. Normally, orders were satisfied in the order that they were received. When multiple 21 customers ordered the same wine, they normally received a default priority rating by the MAS
22 system of 3 (until 2015 when the default priority was changed to 4). The range of possible priority 23 ratings was 1-5 (with 1 being the highest priority), and could be changed manually in the system.
24 The customer's default priority generally was not changed. However, as stated above, it was 25 possible to change a customer's priority to allow a customer with a later order date to be allocated 26 wine before a customer who had ordered on an earlier date.

27 35. I am informed and believe that the Michael Kasolas, the Trustee retained a 28 company called West Auctions to prepare a physical inventory of all of the bottles in the Premier

1 Cru warehouse (“West Inventory”). As set forth below, I have compared the West Inventory that 2 was provided to me when running the reports that the Trustee requested that I prepare.

3 36. In generating the reports attached hereto I have relied on the West Inventory to 4 determine wines in the warehouse. I did not independently verify the West Inventory or make an 5 attempt to check all bottles in the warehouse. I also relied on the accuracy of MAS or Accellos, 6 the computer programs maintained in the ordinary course of business by the Debtor. If an 7 employee made an error in entering data I would not know or be able to detect that error.

8 37. To the best of my knowledge there are 22,855 bottles of wine that are 9 “Oversubscribed” because more bottles were purchased than are in the warehouse. For example,
10 ten bottles could have been purchased when there are only 3 bottles in stock. I determined this 11 amount by running a report on MAS and Accellos, and comparing it to the West Inventory. Wine 12 could be oversubscribed because not all bottles have been received (as was normal for the Pre-13 Arrivals wines), or wine that was allocated to one customer may have been sent to another 14 customer that requested that her wine be shipped.

15 38. I am informed and believe that attached hereto as Exhibit I is a true and correct
16 copy of a summary that West Auctions prepared at the request of the Trustee which lists wine that 17 has been segregated for some reason under a customer’s name (“Segregated”) and this list was 18 provided to me. This wine has been gathered and placed in a box with the customer’s name or a 19 Pick List placed on the box. I have reviewed the list, and the bottles of wine that are segregated on 20 the premises, and where I saw obvious errors after checking the bottles of wine that were 21 segregated I made changes in the report.

22 39. The attached list in Exhibit I indicates that the Segregated bottles are located in the 23 following locations as named by West Auctions (these names were not used by the Premier Cru):
24 (a) Warehouse (either in the staging area, behind a door, on a cart, or near a door); (b) Shrink
25 wrapped; (c) Packing Room; (d) Packing Shipping Room; (e) Dead Beat Room; or (f) Office
26 Building Warehouse. Some of the wine was segregated in the 90 days before the commencement 27 of the case.

28

1 40. Generally, wine was boxed and segregated when it was in the process of being 2 shipped or a customer was to pick it up. However, some of the segregated wine was located in the 3 segregated manner for several years. I do not know why. There could be a box of wine in the 4 middle of the general inventory with a random name on the box and it could have no relation to 5 the wine, and in fact is probably a box that was repurposed and the name could have been the 6 seller, or a name that the seller listed on the box.

7 41. Segregated wine in the Dead Beat Room is wine that was gathered and prepared for 8 shipping, but the customer failed to pay the shipping charges because a credit card could not be 9 processed. It could have been because they failed to provide an updated credit card or the credit
10 card was denied for other reasons. Even though the wine was prepared for shipping and in a 11 sealed box, MAS still showed the shipment request as pending and MAS did not show that the 12 wine bottle had been committed. Some of the wine in the Dead Beat Room was there for a long 13 time.

14 42. A review of the Premier Cru records revealed that a few of the boxes should not 15 have been there. On a few occasions it appears that after an order was not shipped due to an 16 unprocessed shipping charge, the box was placed in the “Deadbeat Room”. When the customer
17 subsequently contacted Premier Cru and requested shipment a second time, in some instances, o
18 fulfill the second request for shipping the employees appear to have pulled bottles from general
19 inventory. There was no record that the bottles already had been pulled since the shipment request 20 was still registered as pending. The customer’s order was shipped, but the first order appears to 21 have remained in the “Deadbeat Room.”

22 43. I reviewed the West Segregated wines and noted that they labeled a room as a “will 23 call” room. I assume that West did that because one of the boxes in that room had a box in it that 24 someone had written “will call” on it. That room is not the will call room, but was a room in 25 which higher priced wine was placed because it was less accessible than in the general inventory, 26 and therefore more protected from ordinary events that can happen in a warehouse, such as theft or 27 breakage. Some of the wine in that room date back to sales that occurred in 2008.

28

1 44. Generally, wine collected to be picked up by the customer was located in the 2 warehouse attached to the retail building, and wine to be shipped was in what West called the 3 Office Building Warehouse.

4 45. Sometimes not all shipping requests could be honored. If for example 20 5 customers called and requested that their wine be shipped, the employees would do their best to 6 satisfy the orders, but it was possible that not all 20 of the customers' order could be shipped in 7 the time frame requested.

8 46. Most of the boxes that contain segregated wine are in boxes that are not sealed, and 9 appear to not have a Packing List or Shipping Invoice in them since they have not been finalized.
10 Many of those boxes may have contained orders that had not been fully filled at the time the 11 bankruptcy case was commenced.

12 47. There is one order that is shrink wrapped and sitting in the warehouse. I do not 13 have an explanation as to why it is there, and it appears to have been there for a long period.

14 48. Usually within a day of the wine being shipped (assuming FedEx or UPS the 15 carrier) MAS would be changed to reflect that the shipment went from Pending to Committed.

16 49. At all times wine could be exchanged or refunded until the wine was shipped for 17 any reason.

18 50. Attached hereto as Exhibit J are true and correct copies of summaries by person of 19 wine held at the Premier Cru premises for the persons indicated, including wine held in general
20 inventory or that was Oversubscribed. I obtained this information from MAS. Wines purchased 21 which are not in the warehouse are not included in this information. In addition, a list of each
22 person's Segregated wine is attached at the back. Wendel Rosen Black & Dean, LLP provided me 23 with the names of the persons to run these reports on.

24 I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct, and that this 25 declaration was executed on March 28, 2016, at Berkeley, California.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Purchasing and Shipping Wine Legally

You must be 21 years of age to purchase and/or receive wine from us.

Premier Cru can only ship to states where it is legal to ship alcoholic beverages. If you live in a state which is not legal to ship alcoholic beverages, please provide an alternative shipping address in a legal state, or the address of a "third party" storage facility (taxes will be applied as appropriate).

A complete list of the states and their shipping restrictions is included on this page. We can also hold your shipment for a limited time for you to pick up at our retail location, located minutes from downtown San Francisco. See special sales tax note below.

Any wine sold to you by Premier Cru is sold in California, and title passes to you, the buyer, in California. All orders are shipped by a licensed California wine retailer. The buyer is solely responsible for the shipment of wine. We make no representations concerning your legal right to ship or receive wine into any state outside California or any country outside the United States. By placing any wine order with Premier Cru, you authorize Premier Cru to act on your behalf to engage a common carrier to deliver your order to your selected destination.

Sales Tax: We must collect sales tax for shipments to the following states:

California - 9.0%

New Hampshire - 8%

Note that any order delivered to a wine storage facility based in one of those states must be charged the appropriate sales tax.

All orders picked up at Premier Cru's store (and not shipped by a licensed carrier to an out of state destination) must be charged 9% sales tax regardless of where the purchaser lives or where the wine will be taken.

Returns and Cancellations

There will be a 15% restocking/cancellation fee enforced for any order that is cancelled by the customer, including pre-arrival orders.

By law, we are only able to accept returns on wines purchased in error. After the wine has been in your possession for at least six months, we are unable to accept returns for any reason. We do not accept any returns on bottles that have been opened.

Pricing Errors

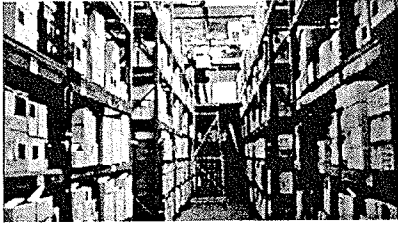

Prices are subject to change without notice. Premier Cru is not responsible for pricing errors that may occur on our website from time to time.

Pre-Arrival Wines versus In-Stock Wines

The term "Pre-Arrival" is applied to wines we have purchased (typically abroad) that have not arrived yet. Depending on the particular wine, the arrival time is typically 6+ months to over two years (in the case of Bordeaux Futures, for example).

Many new releases of highly desirable, limited-production wines (ie - Burgundy, Rhone, Italian, etc.) are offered on a "Pre-Arrival" basis by our suppliers. These offerings typically take 6 to 18 months to arrive and are often the only way to source the wines before they sell out (and at optimal prices). We send an email notification when your wines arrive.

States We Ship To

Below is a list of the states that we can ship to at the present time:

AZ, CA, CO, CT, DC, GA, HI, IA, ID, IL, LA, MO, NC, ND, NE, NM, NV, NY, OH, OR, SC, TX, VA, WA, WI, WV, WY.

This list is subject to change without notice.

States We Don't Ship To

If you live in a state other than one listed above, we encourage you to contact your state representatives and ask them to change their laws and allow you to enjoy the same rights as wine lovers in other states.

In the meantime, we suggest that you consider contracting with a professional wine storage facility. If you transfer wines purchased to a storage facility in California, you are required to pay CA sales tax.

Age Verification

You must be at least 21 years of age or older to buy wine. By placing an order with Premier Cru, whether through our website, over the phone or in person, you certify under penalty of perjury that you and the recipient are at least 21 years old. When the wine is delivered, the recipient will be required to show identification proving that he or she is at least 21 years old. The willful misrepresentation of your age or the age of the recipient is a crime in most states, and if it appears to us or to the authorities that you have done so, we will cooperate with the authorities to prosecute you to the fullest extent of the law.

Adult Signature Required

Because of strict alcoholic beverage laws in the states to which we can legally ship wine, an adult must be present to sign for your wine order. For this reason, we encourage you to use a business address, if possible, where an adult is present during business hours. Neither we nor the shipping companies we use are authorized to accept a "signature on file" or leave a wine package at the door or with a neighbor. Shipping to a business address will also minimize the chance that a delivery will be attempted when no one is there, resulting in the wine spending more time in delivery trucks and warehouses, where it can be exposed to temperature extremes.

Shipping Companies

Currently, we only ship via UPS, FedEx and GSO. These companies accept wine shipments and are committed to delivering them legally. It is not legal to ship wine via the US Postal Service. We can also ship by common carrier (truck), which makes sense for larger shipments, as you can then receive your wine in its original box. Please call for more information.

No PO Boxes

A street address must be provided, since UPS, FedEx and GSO are unable to deliver to PO Boxes. You should also provide a daytime phone number for the recipient's location, so we or the shipping company can reach you if necessary.

SHIPPING INFORMATION

Shipping Info

You must be at least 21 years of age to order and/or receive alcoholic beverages.

Orders are not processed until quantities are confirmed. Although our website updates quantities every minute (during business hours), hard-to-find and highly-sought-after wines can sell out quickly. Once we have received your initial order, we will finalize your order on a first come, first served basis and then email your invoice.

Premier Cru can only ship to states where it is legal to ship alcoholic beverages. If you live in a state which is not legal to ship alcoholic beverages, please provide an alternative shipping address in a legal state, or the address of a "third party" storage facility (taxes will be applied as appropriate).

For information on which states we can or cannot ship to, please see our terms and conditions or contact us at shipping@premiercru.net or by calling 510-644-9463 during business hours (pst).

Completed orders are either held for future delivery or shipped by your preferred shipping method. We will not be responsible for any wines damaged by weather once they have left our warehouse.

For all in stock items that you wish shipped or prepared for pickup, please allow 72 hours for us to gather your wines.

Shipping Rates

When you view your shopping cart at final checkout, you will notice that the shipping field populates. This is an estimate. The actual shipping charges will be charged separately once the bottle quantities, bottle sizes, shipment method, styrofoam shippers, and insurance are calculated. For this reason, we can only approximate shipping charges based on the formula that one case (750ml equivalent) will typically cost from $22-$48 to ship ground, $76-$129 to ship 2nd day air, and $131-$158 to ship overnight, depending on your state. Shipping is based on weight. For instance, the shipping fee for 6 bottles is significantly less than the rate for a case yet Champagne and some other unique bottles weigh more than the typical 750ml.

Additional Overnight Shipping for CA, NV, & AZ

We also use Golden State Overnight delivery. For California and Nevada (state taxes are applicable), deliveries are typically by 6 p.m. the next day. Two day delivery is available to Arizona. Rates are on average $4-$6 more than ground shipment. Early morning delivery is available at an estimate of approximately $8 to $12 more than ground shipment. Adult signature is required.

Weather

We do not advise shipping in warmer or freezing temperatures and if so, recommend Next Day morning delivery. We will not be responsible for any wines damaged by weather once they have left our warehouse. By default, we do not ship until requested. This benefit allows you to accumulate your orders, save on shipping fees, and ship in optimal weather conditions.

When shipping via ground service, there is always a risk with weather and time delays. Any ground shipments to the East coast or mid-East will take 5+ days to arrive. If your wines are shipped on a Monday, they will likely arrive the following Monday. Please consider this when choosing ground as your method of shipment. If you ship on a Wednesday or Thursday, the wines will likely travel over the weekend and arrive by the middle to end of the following week.

International Shipping

We frequently ship to Japan via Yamato Transport and to Hong Kong via DHL.

EXHIBIT B

DHL is our primary international carrier for other countries.

Customers are responsible for all duties, taxes, tariffs, customs charges, and other fees. Please contact us to for a shipping quote via email at shipping@premiercru.net or call (510) 644-9463.

Storage

We urge you to take delivery of your wines as soon as possible, as we have limited warehouse space. Recognizing temperature and other factors, you may delay receipt of your wines for up to six months from the date of your arrival notification. After six months, it will be necessary to assess a charge of 1.5% of the value of your wine each month to cover the cost of insurance, overhead and administration.
