After this action was filed, SportCo Holdings, Inc. ("SportCo"), which is not a party to this civil action, initiated bankruptcy proceedings captioned SPORTCO HOLDINGS, INC., et al., Case #19-11299-LSS, in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware ("Bankruptcy Case"). SportCo notified Plaintiff's counsel that SportCo considered Plaintiff's claims in the pending civil action to be property of the SportCo bankruptcy estate and considered Plaintiff's prosecution of this action to be a violation of the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. § 362(a) ("Automatic Stay"). While Plaintiff did not and does not agree with SportCo's position, Plaintiff, out of an abundance of caution, moved for the Court to stay this civil action for a period of 60 days to allow Plaintiff and SportCo to address SportCo's allegations. The Court entered a consent order granting Plaintiff's motion for a 60-day stay on June 27, 2019.

Because the disputed issues with respect to the Automatic Stay remain unresolved, Plaintiff, while reserving all rights with respect to the applicability of the Automatic Stay, moves this Court to extend the current stay until the earlier of: (1) the termination of the Automatic Stay by motion or determination that the Automatic Stay in not applicable, or (2) the conclusion of the Bankruptcy Case through plan confirmation, conversion, or dismissal. Extending the current stay in this manner will preserve all parties' rights and avoid unnecessary and inefficient litigation over the ancillary bankruptcy issues which may well be mooted upon the conclusion of the Bankruptcy Case.
