RIDER TO PROOF OF CLAIM FILED BY JAMES MATTHEWS

James Matthews, an individual, ("Creditor"), submits this Rider in further support of his proof of claim against Fox Ortega Enterprises, Inc., doing business as Premier Cru ("Debtor").

1. Claimant. Creditor files this claim for amounts paid to Debtor for wine that was never delivered.

2. Starting in September 2004, Creditor made numerous purchases of wine through the Debtor, aggregating over $153,000 in payments already made to Debtor. However, Creditor has not received more than one third in aggregate cost of the wine purchased. Given Debtor's failure to deliver wines that Creditor ordered but, to date, has not received (together, the "Undelivered Wine") or to refund Creditors' payments, Creditor is entitled to $56,549.71.

3. In the ordinary course of its business, Creditor routinely reviews accounts to determine whether there are underpayments and/or previously unbilled expenses. That review is continuing as to the Debtor. If as a result of that review, Creditor has any additional pre-petition claim or claims against the Debtor, Creditor will amend this Claim to include, among other things, the amount of such additional claim.

4. Collateral. The indebtedness of the Debtor to Creditor is not secured.

5. Supporting Documents. The writings on which these claims are founded include, among other things, the following documents:

- Unpaid invoices;
- Documents regarding replacement cost of the Undelivered Wine.

The Supporting Documents are voluminous but are available upon request.

6. Open Account. The claim is not founded on an open account.

7. Judgments. No judgment has been rendered on the claim against the Debtor.

8. Credits and Set-Offs. Debtor has not made any payments on the claim, and none have been credited. The claim is not subject to any setoffs, defenses or counterclaims by the Debtor.

9. Security Interests and Priority Status. Creditor's claim asserted herein is a general unsecured claim.

10. Execution and Waiver. The execution and filing of this proof of claim is not and shall not be deemed: (a) a waiver or release of Creditor's rights against any other Debtor, person or entity liable for all or any part of the claim asserted herein; (b) consent by Creditor to the jurisdiction of this Court with respect to any proceeding commenced in this case against or otherwise involving Creditor; (c) a waiver of the right to withdraw the reference with respect to the subject matter of the claim, any objection or other proceedings commenced with respect thereto or any other proceedings commenced in this case against or otherwise involving Creditor; (d) a waiver of any right to the subordination, in favor of Creditor, of indebtedness or liens held by any other creditors of the Debtor; or (e) an election of remedies which waives or otherwise affects any other remedy. Creditor, respectfully, expressly reserves its right to file any separate or additional proof of claim with respect to the claim set forth herein or otherwise (which proof of claim, if so filed, shall not be deemed to supersede this proof of claim, unless otherwise expressly stated therein), to amend or supplement this proof of claim in any respect, including with respect to the filing of additional or amended claims for the purpose of fixing and liquidating any contingent or unliquidated claim set forth herein, or to file additional proofs of claim in respect of additional claims or for any other reason. Creditor also asserts the following additional claims, to the extent that such claims exist: (a) contingent claims, (b) claims which may be presently in amounts not fully ascertainable, but to be later provided if such claims are estimated and/or liquidated, and (c) claims for pre-petition interest, all costs, and expenses (including attorneys' fees) as allowed under applicable law.

11. Case No. 16-40050 (MEW)

RIDER TO PROOF OF CLAIM FILED BY JAMES MATTHEWS

James Matthews, an individual, ("Creditor"), submits this Rider in further support of his proof of claim against Fox Ortega Enterprises, Inc., doing business as Premier Cru ("Debtor").

1. Claimant. Creditor files this claim for amounts paid to Debtor for wine that was never delivered.
2. Starting in September 2004, Creditor made numerous purchases of wine through the Debtor.

Creditor has not received more than one third in aggregate cost of the wine purchased. The following chart shows the wines that Creditor ordered but, to date, has not received (together, the "Undelivered Wine"):

3. Given Debtor's failure to deliver either the Undelivered Wine or to refund Creditors' payments, Creditor is entitled to $56,406.72. Additionally, the current replacement of the Undelivered Wine $95,768. Creditor is entitled to the replacement cost of the Undelivered Wine.

4. In the ordinary course of its business, Creditor routinely reviews accounts to determine whether there are underpayments and/or previously unbilled expenses. That review is continuing as to the Debtor. If as a result of that review, Creditor has any additional pre-petition claim or claims against the Debtor, Creditor will amend this Claim to include, among other things, the amount of such additional claim.

4. Collateral. The indebtedness of the Debtor to Creditor is not secured.

5. Supporting Documents. The writings on which these claims are founded include, among other things, the following documents:

- Unpaid invoices;
- Documents regarding replacement cost of the Undelivered Wine.

The Supporting Documents are voluminous but are available upon request.

6. Open Account. The claim is not founded on an open account.

7. Judgments. No judgment has been rendered on the claim against the Debtor.

8. Credits and Set-Offs. Debtor has not made any payments on the claim, and none have been credited. The claim is not subject to any setoffs, defenses or counterclaims by the Debtor.

9. Security Interests and Priority Status. Creditor's claim asserted herein is a general unsecured claim.

10. Execution and Waiver. The execution and filing of this proof of claim is not and shall not be deemed: (a) a waiver or release of Creditor's rights against any other Debtor, person or entity liable for all or any part of the claim asserted herein; (b) consent by Creditor to the jurisdiction of this Court with respect to any proceeding commenced in this case against or otherwise involving Creditor; (c) a waiver of the right to withdraw the reference with respect to the subject matter of the claim, any objection or other proceedings commenced with respect thereto or any other proceedings commenced in this case against or otherwise involving Creditor; (d) a waiver of any right to the subordination, in favor of Creditor, of indebtedness or liens held by any other creditors of the Debtor; or (e) an election of remedies which waives or otherwise affects any other remedy. Creditor, respectfully, expressly reserves its right to file any separate or additional proof of claim with respect to the claim set forth herein or otherwise (which proof of claim, if so filed, shall not be deemed to supersede this proof of claim, unless otherwise expressly stated therein), to amend or supplement this proof of claim in any respect, including with respect to the filing of additional or amended claims for the purpose of fixing and liquidating any contingent or unliquidated claim set forth herein, or to file additional proofs of claim in respect of additional claims or for any other reason. Creditor also asserts the following additional claims, to the extent that such claims exist: (a) contingent claims, (b) claims which may be presently in amounts not fully ascertainable, but to be later provided if such claims are estimated and/or liquidated, and (c) claims for pre-petition interest, all costs, and expenses (including attorneys' fees) as allowed under applicable law.

11. Notices. CREDITOR SPECIFICALLY REQUESTS THAT IN ADDITION TO ANY METHOD OF SERVICE REQUIRED BY COURT ORDER IN THIS CASE, ALL DOCUMENTS RELATING TO THIS PROOF OF CLAIM BE SERVED UPON THE FOLLOWING PARTIES BY REGULAR MAIL OR OTHER HARD COPY DELIVERY, SUCH AS FEDERAL EXPRESS OR OTHER OVERNIGHT COURIER:

Hi James,

Thanks for checking, and that's good news regarding the additional 60 bottles. I understand the quid-pro-quo tradeoff of good prices for being patient. Nonetheless, is there still no visibility on the 2008 Pichon Lalande mags ordered in Q4 2009 (almost 5 years ago) or the 2008/2009 wines orders in Q4 2010 (almost 4 years ago)? Those orders in particular seem to be well aged.

Best,
Jim

Subject: RE: Outstanding orders

Hi again Jim

Yes you have 205 bottles here currently, enough to make a palletized, refrigerated shipment worth your while.

There is nothing I can do to expedite additional bottles coming in for you. If you wanted to pay a WHOLE lot more for these same wines, we may be able to airfreight them here just for you, or purchase them from the standard US distributors as most other stores do. However that is not why you buy from us. Our prices are excellent precisely because we buy in quantity, directly import the wines, and need to wait to fill our 13,000 bottle refrigerated containers. We get the wines here slowly, cheaply and under temperature control. They are all coming.

From your pre-arrival wines, the following are currently consolidating in Europe for one of our next containers:

24 x 2010 Clos Fourtet
36 x 09 La Conseillante

It is reasonable to expect that these 60 additional bottles will be here in time for your upcoming shipment in autumn, but they have not left Europe yet so they are at least a month out. Perhaps additional bottles will also be here, but the 60 above are the only ones about which I have specific information.

As always, thanks for your patience. With each of your e-mail inquiries, additional bottles get here for you. Perhaps it is not as fast as you would like, but slowly and surely your bottles arrive here. They will continue to do so as long as you have pre-arrivals.

Thanks for your business.

Best Regards,

James Gillerman

James,

I am looking forward to the pallet delivery this fall and continue to look for additional in-stock collectible items to add to my order in time for shipment. In looking at my account online today, it appears that I have available for shipment 199 bottles visible on the web site plus the 6 Ponsot bottles you mention below. It looks like there are another 436 bottles that remain unavailable. I know it is only July, but I wanted to touch base with you to see if there is anything you could do to expedite some of the remaining bottles, especially the orders placed in 2009, 2010 and 2011 that I expected would have been fulfilled by now.

Thanks,
Jim

Jim,

The bottles you are not seeing on the website are these:

6 x 09 Griotte Chambertin, Ponsot from SO# 0000378026

In fact, these bottles are here for you, but do not show up on the website. The rest of the wines do show up properly. I have listed these Ponsot also in the thread below. They are here.

Premier Cru will fulfill all the orders you have placed. However as you already know, we can indeed be slow to get the wines here. It is a byproduct of the process here, and has been for the past 30 years. Our process is also the reason we can offer the bottles to you at the VERY good prices we do. We cannot purchase the large parcels we do and get them all in here quickly. If you want to pay more and buy wines elsewhere that are either in stock, or will come in quicker, that is something you can do; we will be sorry to lose you as a good customer. Still all these wines you have purchased are also wines we have purchased already. All will come in, some quicker than others. We cannot just go out and buy the wines again at standard retail prices for you to include them on your pallet. They will get here for you in time.

You do have enough bottles here right now to make pallet shipping economically viable in April. It is quite possible that more of your bottles will be here by then as well, and we certainly will include everything available to ship when you do schedule your shipment.

We do need to schedule these pallet level shipments long in advance, especially if you want to ship in the heart of our busiest package shipping seasons in spring and autumn. NOW is the time to schedule a pallet shipment for April. I need all the details from you, and I will get you in the queue for April shipment.

Primarily, we need you to specify the SHIP TO address, and to find out about the facilities at that address. We need to know if the receiving address has a forklift and loading dock, and access for a 55+ foot tractor trailer. If yes, then we can probably use a less expensive carrier. If the address is residential, and/or does not have these capabilities, you will probably pay more. The ZIP and street of the location will also determine which companies go there.

Once we know this, we can shop the shipment around to a few different potential carriers, and try to get you the best rate. Again we need to start this in motion very soon to guarantee an April palletized shipment. Package shipments (e.g. UPS/Fedex) do not require nearly as much advance planning, but pallet shipping through a trucking company does. Let me know as soon as possible.

Thank you as always for your business, and your patience.

Best Regards,

James Gillerman

James,

I am interested in arranging a half pallet to be shipped in April. However, I only see 161 bottles available in my account. Further to our email exchange below, it does not look like any additional items have become available since the fall (and I see 161, not the 167 you mention below).

In order to fill out the half pallet with at least 240 bottles, I would like PC to fulfill all of the orders I placed in 2009, 2010 and early 2011 before the April shipment. Please take a look at the account. If those older orders are not on the water, then it would seem fair that PC acquire the items in the US in order to get them to me. I understand the quid pro quo of waiting a long time in exchange for attractive prices, but more than three years seems nutty.

Thanks,
Jim

Hi again Jim,

You certainly have a lot more bottles here now than the 47 outlined in the e-mail below. Here are the 167 in stock bottles currently:

12 x 02 Bollinger Grand Annee
5 x 2010 Corton Clos des Cortons, Faiveley
6 x 09 Griotte Chambertin Magnum, Ponsot
6 x 09 Griotte Chambertin Magnum, Ponsot
6 x 09 Griotte Chambertin, Ponsot
6 x 09 Griotte Chambertin, Ponsot
24 x 09 Volnay Caillerets, Pousse d'Or
6 x 07 Chambolle Musigny 1er Cru, Vogue
24 x 2010 Le Gay
24 x 09 Leoville las Cases
48 x 2010 Pontet Canet

The rest of the bottles are pre-arrivals still. Thanks for your continued patience. Our imports can be slow to arrive, but they do get here. You will get all of the wines presently. While I do not see additional bottles arriving here for you in the next month or so, my best guess is that a whole lot more will get here for you by the end of the year. That should include many of your tardy 08s, as well as 09 and 10 Bordeaux. Again thanks for your patience.

We can continue to consolidate your arrivals here in our temperature controlled warehouse, or you can choose to ship them out at any time. If we will be doing a palletized shipment, however, that does require a bare minimum of a month advance planning. There is already quite a long queue of pallets scheduled for October and November. If you do want a palletized autumn shipment of the bottles that are here now for you, we need to start working on that immediately. Otherwise, there will certainly be even more here for you in the spring.

Thanks as always for your business.

Hi James,

I took a quick look at my account this morning, and although a couple more cases arrived, there is not enough to warrant a pallet this fall. Do you have any more visibility on items on the water? I am especially concerned about the 2008 and 2009 vintages that I ordered in 2009 and 2010, as that seems like a long time to wait.

Thanks for checking,

Hi Jim,

You have not fallen off my specials offerings, but I am e-mailing to an address different that the address from which this e-mail came! Are you still getting mail at jmatthews@mba1994.hbs.edu? Should I change your official e-mail contact information here to jmatthews@stonepoint.com and/or the address to which I send my Lists to this address? Let me know.

I definitely am still sending you my weekly offerings still. If you do still get mail at the other address, you may wish to check your junk mail folder or similar, or check with your system administrator to see why e-mails from me are being screened. As you will see, I am c.c.ing you above at both addresses as a test.

Currently you have these 47 bottles here in stock right now, that can ship out whenever you wish:

12 x 02 Bollinger Grand Annee
5 x 2010 Corton Clos des Cortons, Faiveley
6 x 09 Griotte Chambertin Magnum, Ponsot
6 x 09 Griotte Chambertin Magnum, Ponsot
6 x 09 Griotte Chambertin, Ponsot
6 x 09 Griotte Chambertin, Ponsot
6 x 07 Chambolle Musigny 1er Cru, Vogue

These next bottles have all been delivered to our export warehouse in Europe, but have not yet been assigned to one of our refrigerated containers. They should be the next to arrive here for you in the coming months:

24 x 2010 Le Gay
24 x 09 Leoville las Cases
48 x 2010 Pontet Canet

All the rest will indeed get here as well, and as always we thank you for your patience. Yes I know, we can be slow to get the bottles here. However prices are excellent, we are careful to store and import under temperature control and we DO get the wines here. Each wine is an individual research project. And in reality, until a wine corresponding to your place in the queue is actually loaded on a refrigerated container and on the water from Europe, I am just guessing as to when it will show up here. We just purchase in such enormous quantities and in huge mixed parcels, and need to fill 13,000 bottle containers to move the wine here under temperature control. We cannot do it any faster and charge the prices we do.

If our slowness prevents you from purchasing more now, I can understand. However we WILL get you everything you have on order currently, and will continue to offer you excellent pricing on more, if you can handle the waits! Thanks for your business.

It has been a few months since I sent my last email (see below), so I wanted to touch base with you. First, I seem to have fallen off your specials list, so you must have taken me seriously that I am holding off on placing any new orders until I see deliveries☺ I would like to continue doing business with premiercru.net, so please include me on your list.

Second, would you please check for me specifically on the orders I placed in 2009 and 2010 (please see first 4 orders below)? It would make me feel a lot more comfortable in placing new orders if I could at least see delivery on the orders that are 3 and 4 years old.

Thanks,
Jim

Hi again Jim,

I do understand about your comfort level and the number of wines you have on order. We do thank you for all that business. However you have been doing business with Premier Cru for at least a decade now, and we have been around for more than 3 decades. We do deliver the wines we sell. Yes we can be slow at times, sometimes excruciatingly slow. We purchase these wines in very large quantites, and in large mixed lots. We do our own importing. That makes our prices very, very good, as you no doubt know. We cannot do things at this scale and price and be the first to deliver. Often we are the last, especially if you are not at the beginning of the queue for a particular bottling. We are however careful to import and store under temperature control. It just takes us a while to get delivery of our mixed lots of wine, consolidate them in Europe and get them here in our completely full refrigerated containers. We could probably charge a lot more and get them here faster, but this model has worked well for us for 30+ years in spite of the heat we get for slow delivery at times. We DO deliver. All are bottles we too have purchased, and all are coming.

There are no problems I see on your backorder. All these wines will get here for you presently. You can consolidate them here waiting for pallet shipment at a later date, or ship anything here for you at any time you wish. Just let me know if you want to ship any or all the bottles that are here now for you. If you want to wait, those bottles will still be here whenever you do decide to ship them, and they are being kept under temperature control.

We again thank you for your business, your patience and your understanding of the way things work here.

Best Regards,

James Gillerman

James,

As you know, I placed some significant orders this spring of both 2009 and 2010 Bordeaux. I must confess that I am holding off placing any further orders until I develop comfort around some of my older orders. When you have time, please take a look at my account, but I'd like to draw your attention to the following items that I would have expected to have received my now.

1. SO-0000330553 (Dec 23, 2009) containing 2008 Pichon Lalande Magnum, 1.5 L
2. SO-0000344443 (Oct 23, 2010) containing:
 - a. 2009 Pichon Lalande Magnum, 1.5 L
 - b. 2009 Leoville las Cases Magnum, 1.5 L
3. SO-0000344477 (Oct 25, 2010) containing 2009 Clos de Beze, Faiveley, 750 ml
4. SO-0000346168 (Dec 3, 2010) containing 2008 Bonnes Mares, Vogue, 750 ml
5. SO-0000349341 (Jan 22, 2011) containing 2009 Pichon Lalande Magnum, 1.5 L
6. SO-0000349588 (Jan 27, 2011) containing 2007 Sori San Lorenzo, Gaja, 750 ml
7. SO-0000353459 (Mar 30, 2011) containing:
 - a. 2009 Pontet Canet, 750 ml
 - b. 2009 Clinet, 750 ml
 - c. 2009 Cos d'Estournel, 750 ml

I highlight the above since all of these orders are at least two years old and contain vintages that are well past release date. In addition, I have another 479 bottles on order but not yet available. I did not highlight those, as even though many are wines that have been released, I understand that part of the reason you offer good pricing is that it can take time to assemble parcels.

I would like to assemble a pallet but only have 36 bottles ready for shipment at present. I figured it was worth touching base before I miss the spring shipping season.

Thanks,
Jim

Hi again Jim,

Sorry, yes the 08 Vogue BM is also quite solid, and could realistically be here before the end of the year. I know that we are currently putting together a container from that negociant, and it is realistic to think that Vogue will be a part of it. We are toward the beginning of 2009 higher end Bordeaux arrivals. I strongly suspect that some/many of these bottles will be in for you before the end of the year as well. Bear in mind I will be out of the office for a week, but give some advance warning when you do want to ship the bottles that are here for you and we will schedule that.

These are all still pre-arrivals, and thanks for your continued patience.

The 2 Vogues are part of a large multi-vintage Vogue parcel we purchased from a negociant we have done business with for nearly a decade. Yes they can sometimes be slow to deliver, but we will get these.

And we are still in the middle of receiving 08 Bordeaux in good quantities. It is quite common for the larger (and smaller) formats to take longer to get here.

We are on the early side for 07 Gaja, and higher end 07 Italian wines in general. These too will migrate here.

Again I see no real problems with any of these bottlings. Yes we can sometimes be slow to consolidate our purchases over in Europe and bring them in here in our refrigerated containers. However on the up side, as you know our pricing is very, very competitive. And we do deliver.

Thanks again for your patience, and your business.

Hi again Jim,

If you want to aggregate enough of your friends to construct a full pallet of wine, then there may be some cost benefit to you. It is generally kind of a hassle for us, and we do not really encourage that. If you do want to do that, one person only must be responsible for all decisions on the pallet, at least from our point of view, and must pay for it. In past there have been a few too many cooks making special requests and wanting us to divide up shipping costs. However the advantage would be you could get a refrigerated carrier, probably for less than the cost of UPS Ground.

A full pallet is about 500 bottles or so. A half pallet is about the break even point for UPS Ground, so you would need 20+ cases or so. Of course you would need to wait for your 09 Bordeaux to all get here to think about this on your own. If you talk to some of your buddies who are also customers here, maybe you can get something together.

You may also want to contact MWC Manhattan Wine Company. I know they collect wine for a lot of our east coast clients, and claim to be cheaper than UPS for refrigerated cross country shipment. I cannot really vouch for them, but it may be worth a google, call or e-mail.

Best Regards,

Hi Jim,

It is always a challenge to guess arrival dates for wines coming in from Europe. While our prices are very good, and we are very careful to store and transport our wines under temperature control, we can sometimes be slower than many others to deliver the wine. We are doing all our own importing, and it does sometimes take a long time to collect all the wines from our European suppliers, consolidate it at a European export warehouse and bring it here in our huge containers. We do thank you for your continued patience on all the wines. We generally only know with any real certainty when a wine is loaded on one of those containers and on the water, when it is about a month out.

Of course you do have 66 bottles here in stock (although I guess some of those shipped out today).

Most or all of your 2009 Bordeaux will be here in calendar year 2012. Some of these should appear probably appear as early as the spring months, much of the bulk of it probably in the autumn. You are now toward the beginning of the line on the sole 2008 Bordeaux, and my best guess is that we are looking at a winter or spring arrival on that one.

Similarly, 2009 Burgundies are just now starting to arrive here in any quantities. They will continue to get here between the next month and the spring months, then taper off a bit. Many of your in stock bottles ARE the early released 2009 Burgs.

Ponsot and Vogue are always slow to get here. They tend to release very late, and we always purchase and sell as much as we can get our hands on. While neither your 07 nor 08 Vogue are yet on the water, I doubt that either of these will be too much longer a wait. These are both part of a large lot of these wines purchased from a very reliable supplier with whom we have done business for nearly a decade. Our wine buyer guesses that these will probably be here around the first quarter next year.

The 07 Saffredi should be here by the end of this year. We have confirmed from the supplier that these are already moving in the pipeline.

The 07 Gajas are the ones that will be the longest wait. It will probably at least another year before these get here. Again thanks for your patience. They are coming.

Thanks for your business as always. I hope this information is helpful.

Best Regards,

James Gillerman

Hi Jim,

The bulk of your bottles on order are 2008 and 2009 Bordeaux, and 2009 Burgundy, with a smattering of 07 Italian wine. 2008 Bordeaux will probably START to arrive here around the summer/early autumn months, and continue to come in for 6 months and more following. Of course it will all get here in time, and we thank you for your patience on all the pre-arrivals.

Your 6 x 05 Latricieres Chambertin, Faiveley are here in stock and can ship out whenever you wish. These next 24 bottles are arriving on our next large refrigerated container from Europe, due in here sometime around 4-7 or thereabouts. We never know exactly how long the container will be tied up in US Customs, but these are on the water and will be here soon:

6 x 08 Clos de la Roche V.V, Ponsot
6 x 08 Clos de la Roche VV Magnum, Ponsot
12 x 08 Musigny V.V, Vogue

Everything else is farther out. Again there are no problems with any of these wines, they are just not here yet. Our prices are great, but sometimes you do need to wait a little longer for the wines. We consolidate huge numbers of purchases over in Europe at a few different export warehouses, wait to fill a refrigerated container, and get them here. Sometimes we purchase thousands of bottles of something to get those great prices, but rarely is it all shipped to us at once. You have been doing business with us a long time, so you know you will get the bottles, and they will be in excellent condition when you do. Again thanks for your patience.

If you want to proactively contact us in mid-April or so, we should be able to ship out the 30 bottles referenced above. Of course we can always hold any arrived wine pending additional arrivals, better shipping weather, or your convenience.

Thanks for your business.

Regards,

James Gillerman

James,

I just took a look at my account and noticed that only 6 bottles of the 172 I have on order are ready to be shipped. Please take a look and let me know the status is on some of the older orders. For example, why wouldn't my orders from 12/23/09 and 4/7/10 be ready?

Best,
Jim

Subject: Premier Cru SPECIAL PRICING 3-30-11, with Super Specials!

Dear Special Pricing Customers,

I have attached some little travel notes from my recent colorful vacation to the Caribbean islands of Martinique, Dominica, Guadeloupe and Antigua to the bottom of this e-mail. I hope they provide some enjoyment or interest to some of you!

My latest Special Prices are shown below, and are also attached in an Excel spreadsheet (with additional review comments).

Items that were not on the previous list are marked in bold, are marked with a => and are at the top of the list.

Super Special items are marked with a => and are in the body of the list.

I am sorry if you have purchased any of these wines at higher prices in past, and there is nothing I can do about that retroactively. The wine and currency markets are quite volatile, and I do try to pass on maximum savings of the moment to you. We all get caught sometimes paying more for a wine in past, and I just cannot do any refunds or adjustments for wines on the List. However purchasing additional quantities will amortize your previous purchases down, and is a great opportunity to take advantage of prices at the new low levels.

The usual strict Special Pricing restrictions apply:

- + no refunds or adjustments against previous orders (sorry!)
- + immediate payment
- + no use of Store Credit for payment
- + minimum order of 3 bottles each under $50 per bottle
- + minimum order of 12 bottles each under $10 per bottle
- + no extensions beyond the deadline date

Matthews, James R.

Subject: Premier Cru Special Pricing List News

Dear Special Pricing List Customers,

First, I want to thank you VERY MUCH for your business in past, and sincerely wish you a happy, healthy and prosperous 2015, the upcoming Year of the Sheep!

We have been in discussions for some time here at Premier Cru about the private Special Pricing List. As you may have noticed, List offerings have become a bit more sparse and irregular in recent months. We have been running more general sales, and of course you probably know that even regular Premier Cru pricing is usually well below that of most other stores. The private List has become quite large over the years I have offered it, and a tad unwieldy to manage effectively, as more and more people find out about it and ask for inclusion. We have been talking about possibly discontinuing the private List, or at least changing things. I do not yet know what will be the final result of these discussions. But as you know, I have not sent any Lists out for the past month or so.

I will be out of the office starting on 1-31-15, a long scheduled trip to West Africa, to the small but hopefully interesting and colorful nations of Togo and Benin. As many of you already know, I love travel to Africa, and to other places in the world that are culturally very different than my own comfortable life here in northern California. This will be a much needed break for me, as I have sadly had a bit of turmoil in my life over the past month or so, the (not unexpected but still emotionally trying) death of my mother. Obviously the death of a parent can cause some amount of introspection, and it has prompted me to make a course change.

I will be leaving Premier Cru Sales on 1-31 when I take my vacation. When I return home, it is possible I will still keep my hand in the pot here with limited behind the scenes administrative, training or warehouse duties. I do love and believe in the idea of Premier Cru: high end wines at prices well below the norm. My personal cellar is well stocked with the unbelievable bargains I have acquired here over the decades. I was a customer here for 20 years before I started working here, and will continue to be one even if and when I leave.

I will pass the idea of this List and your names to our other salespeople here. If the List does get reconstituted in future, you will be included. I am certain my colleagues and management here will continue to service your accounts to the best of their abilities, and continue to provide you with excellent wines at excellent prices.

Again I thank you very much for your business. Part of the deal here has always been the ability to put up with the often long waits for wines, and I also sincerely thank you all for your patience in that regard. My personal backorder here is also sizable, as I continue to wait for many of the same wines you have purchased. I look forward to their arrival in due course, to join the other superb wines at moderate prices I have gotten here over the years.

I wish you all the best! Thanks to all once again.

Regards,

James Gillerman
