INSTRUCTIONS FOR PROOF OF CLAIM FORM

The instructions and definitions below are general explanations of the law. In certain circumstances, such as bankruptcy cases not fit exceptions to these general rules may apply.

Items to be completed in Proof of Claim form

Court, Name of Debtor, and Case Number:

Fill in the federal judicial district in which the bankruptcy case was filed (for example, Central District of California), the debtor's full name, and the case number. If the creditor received a notice of the case from the bankruptcy court, all of this information is at the top of the notice.

Creditor's Name and Address:

Fill in the name of the person or entity asserting a claim and the name and address of the person who should receive notices issued during the bankruptcy case. A separate space is provided for the payment address if it differs from the notice address. The creditor has a continuing obligation to keep the court informed of its current address. See Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure (FRBP) 2002(g).

1. Amount of Claim as of Date Case Filed:

State the total amount owed to the creditor on the date of the bankruptcy filing. Follow the instructions concerning whether to complete items 4 and 5. Check the box if interest or other charges are included in the claim.

2. Basis for Claim:

State the type of debt or how it was incurred. Examples include goods sold, money loaned, services performed, personal injury/wrongful death, car loan, mortgage note, and credit card. If the claim is based on delivering health care goods or services, limit the disclosure of the goods or services so as to avoid embarrassment or the disclosure of confidential health care information. You may be required to provide additional disclosure if an interested party objects to the claim.

3. Last Four Digits of Any Number by Which Creditor Identifies Debtor:

State only the last four digits of the debtor's account or other number used by the creditor to identify the debtor.

3a. Debtor May Have Scheduled Account As:

Report a change in the creditor's name, a transferred claim, or any other information that clarifies a difference between this proof of claim and the claim as scheduled by the debtor.

3b. Uniform Claim Identifier:

If you use a uniform claim identifier, you may report it here. A uniform claim identifier is an optional 24-character identifier that certain large creditors use to facilitate electronic payment in chapter 13 cases.

4. Secured Claim:

Check whether the claim is fully or partially secured. Skip this section if the claim is entirely unsecured. (See Definitions.) If the claim is secured, check the box for the nature and value of property that secures the claim, attach copies of lien documentation, and state, as of the date of the bankruptcy filing, the annual interest rate (and whether it is fixed or variable), and the amount past due on the claim.

5. Amount of Claim Entitled to Priority Under 11 U.S.C. § 507 (a).

If any portion of the claim falls into any category shown, check the appropriate box(es) and state the amount entitled to priority. (See Definitions.) A claim may be partly priority and partly non-priority. For example, in some of the categories, the law limits the amount entitled to priority.

6. Credits:

An authorized signature on this proof of claim serves as an acknowledgment that when calculating the amount of the claim, the creditor gave the debtor credit for any payments received toward the debt.

7. Documents:

Attach redacted copies of any documents that show the debt exists and a lien secures the debt. You must also attach copies of documents that evidence perfection of any security interest and documents required by FRBP 3001(c) for claims based on an open-end or revolving consumer credit agreement or secured by a security interest in the debtor's principal residence. You may also attach a summary in addition to the documents themselves. FRBP 3001(c) and (d). If the claim is based on delivering health care goods or services, limit disclosing confidential health care information. Do not send original documents, as attachments may be destroyed after scanning.

8. Date and Signature:

The individual completing this proof of claim must sign and date it. FRBP 9011. If the claim is filed electronically, FRBP 5005(a)(2) authorizes courts to establish local rules specifying what constitutes a signature. If you sign this form, you declare under penalty of perjury that the information provided is true and correct to the best of your knowledge, information, and reasonable belief. Your signature is also a certification that the claim meets the requirements of FRBP 9011(b). Whether the claim is filed electronically or in person, if your name is on the signature line, you are responsible for the declaration. Print the name and title, if any, of the creditor or other person authorized to file this claim. State the filer's address and telephone number if it differs from the address given on the top of the form for purposes of receiving notices. If the claim is filed by an authorized agent, provide both the name of the individual filing the claim and the name of the agent. If the authorized agent is a servicer, identify the corporate servicer as the company. Criminal penalties apply for making a false statement on a proof of claim.

Hello Edward,

We are expecting to finally bring in the vast majority of our '10 Bordeaux this Fall and should have nearly all orders filled by the end of this year. Sorry about the long wait times on these wines. Our logistics got held up with some of our Bordeaux suppliers and affected our importing over several vintages. Also the port closures in California set everything back at least four months. Moving forward, we are confident we will be able to ship our allocations in a much more timely fashion. Your order is now at the 24 month mark, and you are more than welcome to a full refund if that is what you choose, however the delivery of the '10 Palmer is likely to be this Fall. Let me know if I can be of further assistance.

Many thanks,

Tony Gray

It has now been two years since I entrusted just shy of $3500.00 to you with the expectation of receiving a case of Chateau Palmer. Your last communication indicated late spring, early summer arrival. It was not my intention to award you a no interest long term loan. I think it's time to deliver or talk refund. Each of your prior replies has simply afforded delay. When might I receive my wine?

Hi Ed,

The strike at the Port of Oakland has not helped us but they went back to work last week and it looks like the strike is resolving. Therefore, we can now get our containers on the water for late Spring, early summer arrival.

Thanks for your patience. We didn't put any containers on the water for risk of losing refrigeration in the backlog.

Hello Ed,

Thanks for your email. Currently, the wine is still at the negoce in climate controlled storage. Our buyers were overly optimistic in getting all of the 2010 Bordeaux in that quickly. We do fulfill orders sequentially and you are close to the top of the queue. Checking today, it won't be until fall as we are working on another 4 containers (about 60,000 bottles) for fall. It is too hot to ship right now as well.

Your order date is 8-5-13. Prearrivals typically take 6+ to 18 months to arrive (as noted on the website). Thanks for your patience.

Regards,
Phil

Pre-Arrival Wines versus In-Stock Wines

The term "Pre-Arrival" is applied to wines we have purchased (typically abroad) that have not arrived yet. Depending on the particular wine, the arrival time is typically 6+ months to over two years (in the case of Bordeaux Futures, for example).

Many new releases of highly desirable, limited-production wines (ie - Burgundy, Rhone, Italian, etc.) are offered on a "Pre-Arrival" basis by our suppliers. These offerings typically take 6 to 18 months to arrive and are often the only way to source the wines before they sell out (and at optimal prices). We send an email notification when your wines arrive.

Hello Edward,

Thanks for your email. Your case of 2010 Palmer is not expected to arrive until late Spring/ early Summer. We do fulfill orders first in, first out and many people ordered before you. Prearrivals typically take at least 9 months to arrive as noted on the website.

We will email you on arrival and we never ship automatically.

Have a good week.

Kind regards,
Phil

Any news on the 2010 Chateau Palmer order? I receive your many enticing e-mail offers, and they are tempting. This is however my first order with your company, and I'm waiting for it to come to fruition before I place additional orders.

Hello Ed,

Thanks for your email. Currently, the wine is still at the negoce in climate controlled storage. Our buyers were overly optimistic in getting all of the 2010 Bordeaux in that quickly. We do fulfill orders sequentially and you are close to the top of the queue. Checking today, it won't be until fall as we are working on another 4 containers (about 60,000 bottles) for fall. It is too hot to ship right now as well.

Your order date is 8-5-13. Prearrivals typically take 6+ to 18 months to arrive (as noted on the website). Thanks for your patience.

Regards,
Phil

Pre-Arrival Wines versus In-Stock Wines

The term "Pre-Arrival" is applied to wines we have purchased (typically abroad) that have not arrived yet. Depending on the particular wine, the arrival time is typically 6+ months to over two years (in the case of Bordeaux Futures, for example).

Many new releases of highly desirable, limited-production wines (ie - Burgundy, Rhone, Italian, etc.) are offered on a "Pre-Arrival" basis by our suppliers. These offerings typically take 6 to 18 months to arrive and are often the only way to source the wines before they sell out (and at optimal prices). We send an email notification when your wines arrive.

I would like to check on the status of order #131346. Your August 5, 2013 originally indicated arrival near the end of the year. Your February 12, 2014 email said late spring/early summer.

Thank you,
Ed

Hello Edward,

Thanks for your email. Your case of 2010 Palmer is not expected to arrive until late Spring/ early Summer. We do fulfill orders first in, first out and many people ordered before you. Prearrivals typically take at least 9 months to arrive as noted on the website.

We will email you on arrival and we never ship automatically.

Have a good week.

Kind regards,
Phil

Any news on the 2010 Chateau Palmer order? I receive your many enticing e-mail offers, and they are tempting. This is however my first order with your company, and I'm waiting for it to come to fruition before I place additional orders.

Thank you,
Ed Szalapski Jr.
