Matt:

It was nice speaking with you today. As we discussed, my client was the creator of the Debtors' logos, advertising materials, etc., including the promotional materials for Zyclara and Aldara. Metaphor maintains copyrights in all of its materials created for the Debtors. As such, these materials are not property of the Debtors' estates and cannot be transferred via the proposed 363 absent my client's consent. Further, because the Debtors are continuing to use this copyrighted material without my client's consent, my client intends to immediately issue a "takedown notice" under the applicable provisions of the Millennium Copyright Act. I understand that this will cause the 3rd party web host to essentially shut the website down.

The Debtors currently owe my client approximately 481K on account of work performed prepetition. To the extent the Debtors are willing, my client would like to resolve its issues with the Debtors without the need of a formal sale objection, the takedown notice, etc. I look forward to your response.

Regards,
