About Your Statement

The calculation includes activity in your account (such as contributions, exchanges among investment options, etc.) using daily share price in effect when the activity occurred. Other performance calculations shown on this statement are different. Because the timing of your investments and withdrawals will vary, your personal investment results will generally not be the same as the investment returns quoted for the individual funds you have selected.

Quoted performance data represents past performance. Past performance does not guarantee nor predict future performance. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted.

The information reported on this statement (i.e.: fund choices, allocation changes, etc.) is based on plan records through the last day of the previous quarter. If you made contributions during the quarter, compare with those reported on your check stubs. Please notify Lincoln promptly if information contained in this document is not accurate. Feel free to re-confirm any oral communications in writing to further protect your rights. Contact Lincoln Retirement at 800-234-3500 with any questions. Be sure to have your Social Security number and PIN available. Please remember that an investment's past performance does not necessarily indicate future performance.

Investing in equities with ERISA requires the disclosure by means of a prospectus. The prospectus contains information about the risks of investing in equities and the risks of investing in equities. In deciding how to invest your retirement savings, you should take into account all of your assets, including any retirement savings outside of the Plan. No single approach is right for everyone because, among other factors, individuals have different financial goals, different time horizons for meeting their goals, and different tolerances for risk. It is also important to periodically review your investment portfolio, your investment objectives, and the investment options under the Plan to help ensure that your retirement savings will meet your retirement goals.

A good way to check to see that you are properly investing is to look at the information Lincoln provides at www.LincolnAlliance.com, or to visit the Department of Labor's website at <http://www.dol.gov/ebsa/nyes/line.html>.

Self-Directing Plan Investments and Restrictions that may Apply

Most plans provide participants with the right to direct investments in their plan. This means that you can direct your contributions to specific plan investments and you can transfer or exchange your accumulated balance among the plan investments. To execute a trade or re-direct your investment elections, you can log on to www.LincolnAlliance.com or call (800) 834-3300. If there are any restrictions or limitations in trading your plan assets, the service representative at the aforementioned phone number can assist you and let you know if they apply.

Vested Benefits - not applicable to all plans

If your current statement does not include information on vesting, you will receive your vesting information in one of three ways:

1. You will receive a separate benefit statement that will include the necessary information to calculate your vested benefit.
2. You will have your vested percentage included on the year end statement.
3. Your employer will provide a separate statement that will enable you to calculate your vested benefit under the Plan.

Permitted Deduction, Section 401(j) - not applicable to all plans

If an employer makes a profit sharing contribution to this Plan, the amount any participant will receive is usually based upon a pro rata formula of the participant's salary. However, some profit sharing plans permit employers to take into account Social Security taxes paid by the participant when allocating the profit sharing contribution. You may ask your employer for a copy of the plan document or plan summary to find out if this applies to your profit sharing contribution and, if it does, the formula used by the plan to determine your allocation.

The above information only applies to plans subject to ERISA.
