OG&E ELECTRIC SERVICES

A MESSAGE OF INTEREST TO CUSTOMERS

The last thing OG&E wants to do is cut off a customer's electric service, especially if that customer has a good payment record. If a payment problem occurs, and you receive a Cut Off or Shut Off Notice, there are certain options listed on the notice that are available to you.

Should you receive an OG&E Cut Off or Shut Off notice, feel free to call the Customer Service phone number on the front of your electric bill. By calling that number you can quickly receive account information, including records of payments and electric use. You can also find out about OG&E's deferred payment plan and other programs designed to help keep service on, as well as the names of government or social agencies with programs that might be able to help you. OG&E's customer service representatives are available each business day, and our automated information system is available to you 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

If you ever feel there may have been a mistake in calculating your bill, call OG&E. Your service will remain on until the company can complete a thorough check.

EMPLOYEE IDENTIFICATION

Our authorized representatives carry Company identification with a photograph. Please do not hesitate to ask for identification before admitting an employee to your premises. Even then, if you have any doubts, call OG&E.

HOW TO READ YOUR ELECTRIC METER

You can learn to read your electric meter and it's really not hard once you know how. By being able to read your own meter, you can keep track of how much electricity you are using during a given period of time, such as the "from" and "to" service dates on your bill.

Some meters have four dials, but most have five so our illustration will show the more common five dial meter. A small number of customers now have meters with numbers that turn like those on digital clocks.

First, look at the meter illustration. The dials are read in order from left to right. Notice that on the five dial meter, the first, third and fifth hands turn clockwise and the second and fourth turn counter-clockwise. To read your meter, read the number on each dial the hand is pointing to. If the hand is between numbers, read the lowest number the hand has just passed.

We see from the position of the hands in the illustration that the January reading was 01675 kilowatt-hours (KWH) and the February reading was 02837. By subtracting the January reading from the February reading we find that the difference is 1162.

which means that 1162 KWH were used during that month.

Some meter readers can read a meter as quickly as they can tell time by looking at a clock with hands. You may never get that fast, but with a little effort your results can be as accurate.

IMPORTANT DISCLOSURE NOTICE OF TERRORISM INSURANCE COVERAGE

On November 26, 2002, President Bush signed into law the Terrorism Risk Insurance Act of 2002 (the "Act"). The Act establishes a short-term program under which the Federal Government will share in the payment of covered losses caused by certain acts of international terrorism. We are providing you with this notice to inform you of the key features of the Act, and to let you know what effect, if any, the Act will have on your premium.

Under the Act, insurers are required to provide coverage for certain losses caused by international acts of terrorism as defined in the Act. The Act further provides that the Federal Government will pay a share of such losses. Specifically, the Federal Government will pay 90% of the amount of covered losses caused by certain acts of terrorism which is in excess of Travelers' statutorily established deductible for that year. The Act also caps the amount of terrorism-related losses for which the Federal Government or an insurer can be responsible at $100,000,000.00, provided that the insurer has met its deductible.

Please note that passage of the Act does not result in any change in coverage under the attached policy or bond (or the policy or bond being quoted). Please also note that no separate additional premium charge has been made for the terrorism coverage required by the Act. The premium charge that is allocable to such coverage is inseparable from and imbedded in your overall premium, and is no more than one percent of your premium.

A MESSAGE OF INTEREST TO CUSTOMERS

The last thing OG&E wants to do is cut off a customer's electric service . . . especially if that customer has a good payment record. If a payment problem occurs, and you receive a Cut Off or Shut Off Notice, there are certain options listed on the notice that are available to you.

Should you receive an OG&E Cut Off or Shut Off notice, feel free to call the Customer Service phone number on the front of your electric bill. By calling that number you can quickly receive account information, including records of payments and electric use. You can also find out about OG&E's deferred payment plan and other programs designed to help keep service on, as well as the names of government or social agencies with programs that might be able to help you. OG&E's customer service representatives are available each business day and our automated information system is available to you 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

If you ever feel there may have been a mistake in calculating your bill, call OG&E. Your service will remain on until the company can complete a thorough check.

EMPLOYEE IDENTIFICATION

Our authorized representatives carry Company identification with a photograph. Please do not hesitate to ask for identification before admitting an employee to your premises. Even then, if you have any doubts, call OG&E.

HOW TO READ YOUR ELECTRIC METER

You can learn to read your electric meter and it's really not hard once you know how. By being able to read your own meter, you can keep track of how much electricity you are using during a given period of time, such as the "from" and "to" service dates on your bill.

Some meters have four dials, but most have five so our illustration will show the more common five dial meter. (A small number of customers now have meters with numbers that turn like those on digital clocks.)

First, look at the meter illustration. The dials are read in order from left to right. Notice that on the five dial meter, the first, third and fifth hands turn clockwise and the second and fourth turn counter-clockwise. To read your meter read the number on each dial the hand is pointing to. If the hand is between numbers, read the lowest number the hand has just passed.

We see from the position of the hands in the illustration that the January reading was 01675 kilowatt-hours (KWH) and the February reading was 02837. By subtracting the January reading from the February reading we find that the difference is 1162 which means that 1162 KWH were used during that month.

Some meter readers can read a meter as quickly as they can tell time by looking at a clock with hands. You may never get that fast, but with a little effort, your results can be as accurate.

On November 26, 2002, President Bush signed into law the Terrorism Risk Insurance Act of 2002 (the "Act"). The Act establishes a short-term program under which the Federal Government will share in the payment of covered losses caused by certain acts of international terrorism. We are providing you with this notice to inform you of the key features of the Act, and to let you know what effect, if any, the Act will have on your premium.

Under the Act, insurers are required to provide coverage for certain losses caused by international acts of terrorism as defined in the Act. The Act further provides that the Federal Government will pay a share of such losses. Specifically, the Federal Government will pay 90% of the amount of covered losses caused by certain acts of terrorism which is in excess of Travelers' statutorily established deductible for that year. The Act also caps the amount of terrorism-related losses for which the Federal Government or an insurer can be responsible at $100,000,000,000.00, provided that the insurer has met its deductible.

Please note that passage of the Act does not result in any change in coverage under the attached policy or bond (or the policy or bond being quoted). Please also note that no separate additional premium charge has been made for the terrorism coverage required by the Act. The premium charge that is allocable to such coverage is inseparable from and imbedded in your overall premium, and is no more than one percent of your premium.

A MESSAGE OF INTEREST TO CUSTOMERS

The last thing OG&E wants to do is cut off a customer's electric service . . . especially if that customer has a good payment record. If a payment problem occurs, and you receive a Cut Off or Shut Off Notice, there are certain options listed on the notice that are available to you.

Should you receive an OG&E Cut Off or Shut Off notice, feel free to call the Customer Service phone number on the front of your electric bill. By calling that number you can quickly receive account information, including records of payments and electric use. You can also find out about OG&E's deferred payment plan and other programs designed to help keep service on, as well as the names of government or social agencies with programs that might be able to help you. OG&E's customer service representatives are available each business day, and our automated information system is available to you 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

If you ever feel there may have been a mistake in calculating your bill, call OG&E. Your service will remain on until the company can complete a thorough check.

EMPLOYEE IDENTIFICATION

Our authorized representatives carry Company identification with a photograph. Please do not hesitate to ask for identification before admitting an employee to your premises. Even then, if you have any doubts, call OG&E.

HOW TO READ YOUR ELECTRIC METER

You can learn to read your electric meter and it's really not hard once you know how. By being able to read your own meter, you can keep track of how much electricity you are using during a given period of time, such as the "from" and "to" service dates on your bill.

Some meters have four dials, but most have five so our illustration will show the more common five dial meter. (A small number of customers now have meters with numbers that turn like those on digital clocks.)

First, look at the meter illustration. The dials are read in order from left to right. Notice that on the five dial meter, the first, third and fifth hands turn clockwise and the second and fourth turn counter-clockwise. To read your meter, read the number on each dial the hand is pointing to. If the hand is between numbers, read the lowest number the hand has just passed.

We see from the position of the hands in the illustration that the January reading was 01675 kilowatt-hours (KWH) and the February reading was 02837. By subtracting the January reading from the February reading we find that the difference is 1162 . . . which means that 1162 KWH were used during that month.

Some meter readers can read a meter as quickly as they can tell time by looking at a clock with hands. You may never get that fast, but with a little effort, your results can be as accurate.

OG&E ELECTRIC SERVICES

A MESSAGE OF INTEREST TO CUSTOMERS

The last thing OG&E wants to do is cut off a customer's electric service . . . especially if that customer has a good payment record. If a payment problem occurs, and you receive a Cut Off or Shut Off Notice, there are certain options listed on the notice that are available to you.

Should you receive an OG&E Cut Off or Shut Off notice, feel free to call the Customer Service phone number on the front of your electric bill. By calling that number you can quickly receive account information, including records of payments and electric use. You can also find out about OG&E's deferred payment plan and other programs designed to help keep service on, as well as the names of government or social agencies with programs that might be able to help you. OG&E's customer service representatives are available each business day, and our automated information system is available to you 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

If you ever feel there may have been a mistake in calculating your bill, call OG&E. Your service will remain on until the company can complete a thorough check.

EMPLOYEE IDENTIFICATION

Our authorized representatives carry Company identification with a photograph. Please do not hesitate to ask for identification before admitting an employee to your premises. Even then, if you have any doubts, call OG&E.

HOW TO READ YOUR ELECTRIC METER

You can learn to read your electric meter and it's really not hard once you know how. By being able to read your own meter, you can keep track of how much electricity you are using during a given period of time, such as the "from" and "to" service dates on your bill.

Some meters have four dials, but most have five so our illustration will show the more common five dial meter. (A small number of customers now have meters with numbers that turn like those on digital clocks.)

First, look at the meter illustration. The dials are read in order from left to right. Notice that on the five dial meter, the first, third and fifth hands turn clockwise and the second and fourth turn counter-clockwise. To read your meter, read the number on each dial the hand is pointing to. If the hand is between numbers, read the lowest number the hand has just passed.

We see from the position of the hands in the illustration that the January reading was 01675 kilowatt-hours (KWH) and the February reading was 02837. By subtracting the January reading from the February reading we find that the difference is 1162 . . . which means that 1162 KWH were used during that month.

Some meter readers can read a meter as quickly as they can tell time by looking at a clock with hands. You may never get that fast, but with a little effort your results can be as accurate.

IMPORTANT DISCLOSURE NOTICE OF TERRORISM INSURANCE COVERAGE

On November 26, 2002, President Bush signed into law the Terrorism Risk Insurance Act of 2002 (the "Act"). The Act establishes a short-term program under which the Federal Government will share in the payment of covered losses caused by certain acts of international terrorism. We are providing you with this notice to inform you of the key features of the Act, and to let you know what effect, if any, the Act will have on your premium.

Under the Act, insurers are required to provide coverage for certain losses caused by international acts of terrorism as defined in the Act. The Act further provides that the Federal Government will pay a share of such losses. Specifically, the Federal Government will pay 90% of the amount of covered losses caused by certain acts of terrorism which is in excess of Travelers' statutorily established deductible for that year. The Act also caps the amount of terrorism-related losses for which the Federal Government or an insurer can be responsible at $100,000,000.00, provided that the insurer has met its deductible.

Please note that passage of the Act does not result in any change in coverage under the attached policy or bond (or the policy or bond being quoted). Please also note that no separate additional premium charge has been made for the terrorism coverage required by the Act. The premium charge that is allocable to such coverage is inseparable from and imbedded in your overall premium, and is no more than one percent of your premium.

A MESSAGE OF INTEREST TO CUSTOMERS

The last thing OG&E wants to do is cut off a customer's electric service . . . especially if that customer has a good payment record. If a payment problem occurs, and you receive a Cut Off or Shut Off Notice, there are certain options listed on the notice that are available to you.

Should you receive an OG&E Cut Off or Shut Off notice, feel free to call the Customer Service phone number on the front of your electric bill. By calling that number you can quickly receive account information, including records of payments and electric use. You can also find out about OG&E's deferred payment plan and other programs designed to help keep service on, as well as the names of government or social agencies with programs that might be able to help you. OG&E's customer service representatives are available each business day and our automated information system is available to you 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

If you ever feel there may have been a mistake in calculating your bill, call OG&E. Your service will remain on until the company can complete a thorough check.

EMPLOYEE IDENTIFICATION

Our authorized representatives carry Company identification with a photograph. Please do not hesitate to ask for identification before admitting an employee to your premises. Even then, if you have any doubts, call OG&E.

HOW TO READ YOUR ELECTRIC METER

You can learn to read your electric meter and it's really not hard once you know how. By being able to read your own meter, you can keep track of how much electricity you are using during a given period of time, such as the 'from' and 'to' service dates on your bill.

Some meters have four dials, but most have five so our illustration will show the more common five dial meter. (A small number of customers now have meters with numbers that turn like those on digital clocks.)

First, look at the meter illustration. The dials are read in order from left to right. Notice that on the five dial meter, the first, third and fifth hands turn clockwise and the second and fourth turn counter-clockwise. To read your meter read the number on each dial the hand is pointing to. If the hand is between numbers, read the lowest number the hand has just passed.

We see from the position of the hands in the illustration that the January reading was 01675 kilowatt-hours (KWH) and the February reading was 02837. By subtracting the January reading from the February reading we find that the difference is 1162, which means that 1162 KWH were used during that month.

Some meter readers can read a meter as quickly as they can tell time by looking at a clock with hands. You may never get that fast, but with a little effort, your results can be as accurate.

IMPORTANT DISCLOSURE NOTICE OF TERRORISM INSURANCE COVERAGE

On November 26, 2002, President Bush signed into law the Terrorism Risk Insurance Act of 2002 (the "Act"). The Act establishes a short-term program under which the Federal Government will share in the payment of covered losses caused by certain acts of international terrorism. We are providing you with this notice to inform you of the key features of the Act, and to let you know what effect, if any, the Act will have on your premium.

Under the Act, insurers are required to provide coverage for certain losses caused by international acts of terrorism as defined in the Act. The Act further provides that the Federal Government will pay a share of such losses. Specifically, the Federal Government will pay 90% of the amount of covered losses caused by certain acts of terrorism which is in excess of Travelers' statutorily established deductible for that year. The Act also caps the amount of terrorism-related losses for which the Federal Government or an insurer can be responsible at $100,000,000,000.00, provided that the insurer has met its deductible.

Please note that passage of the Act does not result in any change in coverage under the attached policy or bond (or the policy or bond being quoted). Please also note that no separate additional premium charge has been made for the terrorism coverage required by the Act. The premium charge that is allocable to such coverage is inseparable from and imbedded in your overall premium, and is no more than one percent of your premium.

3. Except as expressly provided herein, Travelers holds a contingent, unliquidated claim against the Debtor as described below (the "Claim").

4. From time to time, Travelers issued certain surety bonds (collectively, the "Bonds") to certain obligees with respect to certain obligations of the Debtor, or a subsidiary, affiliate or division thereof, to such obligees including, without limitation, those Bonds summarized on Exhibit A attached hereto and made a part hereof, as applicable to such Debtor, or such subsidiary, affiliate or division thereof, which indicate that the Debtor is a principal thereunder or an indemnitor pursuant to the Indemnity Agreement (as hereinafter defined). Exhibit A may contain Bonds as to which liability has been extinguished by the obligees, by the terms of the Bond, or by operation of law. A copy of any and/or all of the Bonds can be obtained upon request. Travelers reserves the right to amend Exhibit A to identify and include other Bonds. Nothing contained herein shall constitute an admission or acknowledgement of any liability on the part of Travelers with respect to any or all of the Bonds.

5. Travelers may hereafter be required to make payment(s) under one or more of the Bonds.¹ As a result of any such payment(s), Travelers would become subrogated to the rights of the obligees against the Debtor with respect to such payments and Travelers would have the right to be reimbursed and indemnified under common law by the Debtor with respect to all such payments, whether such payments are made on behalf of the Debtor as a principal or on behalf of another principal under any Bond. Travelers' Claim is liquidated to the extent of any such payment(s).

6. Additionally, the Debtor has executed and delivered a certain indemnity agreement(s), (the "Indemnity Agreement") pursuant to which the Debtor is required to pay all premiums and indemnify and exonerate Travelers, and hold Travelers harmless from and against any and all loss, cost and expense incurred by Travelers in connection with (1) the furnishing of any Bond or (2) the enforcement of the Indemnity Agreement. A copy of the Indemnity Agreement(s) may be obtained upon request. Travelers asserts herein a claim with respect to the Debtor's obligations to Travelers under the Indemnity Agreement(s).

7. Travelers asserts that its Claim is secured to the extent of the value of any collateral granted by the Debtor pursuant to the provisions of the Indemnity Agreement or otherwise pursuant to agreement of the parties.

8. The Claim is also liquidated to the extent that Travelers has incurred legal fees and expenses to date. A statement of the liquidated balance of the Claim can be obtained upon request. Travelers reserves all applicable right to file a claim or claims, or supplement or amend this Proof of Claim, for recovery of incurred fees and expenses not paid by the Debtor. Additionally, the Debtor agreed to pay Travelers a renewal premium on each anniversary date of a Bond's issuance until the Bond is released by the obligee through a written release satisfactory to Travelers. Travelers hereby asserts a claim for all premiums for new bonds and all renewal premiums which have accrued and not been paid or may accrue.

9. Travelers reserves all applicable right to assert an administrative claim or claims under 11 U.S.C. § 503 for obligations arising out of the Debtor's post-petition activities and/or Bonds in effect post-petition.

10. Travelers claims and asserts any rights of setoff or recoupment to which it may be entitled including, without limitation, setoff against any obligations which Travelers may have under insurance policies issued by it for or on behalf of the Debtor.

11. The filing of this Proof of Claim shall not constitute or be construed as an admission by Travelers of any liability or an election by Travelers of any remedy. Travelers reserves all rights, remedies, and defenses.

12. This Proof of Claim is filed in addition to and not in lieu of any other claim filed by any division of Travelers or by any of its affiliates.

13. Travelers further reserves the right to amend this Proof of Claim as it becomes further known, fixed and liquidated, and for any and all other lawful purposes.

14. Travelers reserves the right to claim all amounts due in respect of any post-petition interest, all rights of and to indemnification, fees, costs and expenses, including, without limitation, attorneys' fees, costs and expenses, in amounts as yet undetermined, pursuant to the applicable documents and to the extent allowed by applicable law.

15. This Proof of Claim is filed under the compulsion of the bar date established in this case and is filed to protect the Claimant from forfeiture of claims by reason of said bar date. Filing of this whether legal or equitable, are expressly reserved.

Proof of Claim is not and shall not be deemed or construed as (a) a waiver or release of the Claimant's rights against any person, entity or property (including, without limitation, any person or entity that is or may become a debtor in a case pending in this Court); (b) a consent by the Claimant to the jurisdiction of this Bankruptcy Court or any other court with respect to proceedings, if any, commenced in any case against or otherwise involving the Claimant; (c) a waiver or release of the Claimant's right to trial by jury in this Court or any other court in any proceeding as to any and all matters so triable herein, whether or not the same be designated legal or private rights or in any case, controversy or proceeding related hereto, notwithstanding the designation or not of such matters as "core proceedings" pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2), and whether such jury trial right is pursuant to statute or the United States Constitution; (d) a consent by the Claimant to a jury trial in this Court or any other court in any proceeding as to any and all matters so triable herein or in any case, controversy or proceeding related hereto, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157(e) or otherwise; (e) a waiver or release of the Claimant's right to have any and all final orders in any and all non-core matters or proceedings entered only after de novo review by a United States District Court Judge; (f) a waiver of the right to move to withdraw the reference with respect to the subject matter of this Proof of Claim, any objection thereto or other proceeding which may be commenced in this case against or otherwise involving the Claimant; (g) an election of remedies; or (h) a waiver or release of any right of setoff or recoupment that the Claimant may hold against the Debtor. Furthermore, the Claimant reserves the right to attach or bring forth additional documents supporting its claims and additional documents that may become available after further investigation and discovery or in response to any objection to the Claim. The filing of this Proof of Claim shall in no way be deemed a waiver of the Claimant's right to assert that any or all of the amounts owed to it, if any, are entitled to administrative priority status.
