Subject: RE: Hammons/UBS Fee Application

Thanks for taking the time talk to us about the case and for the draft discovery/hearing date schedule you emailed to us. After reviewing and considering your client's opposition to the UBS Fee Application, UBS believes there are no dispositive or significant facts in dispute and accordingly, there is no need for discovery or a future evidentiary hearing. Based on your papers, we expect to discuss this with the Court at the hearing on Monday. To the extent the Court disagrees with UBS's position, we will get you thoughts and in-put on your proposal.

Thank you,
Chris
