Dear Calvin:

I have received a submittal for KB Homes Pod 2-3 via e-mail on November 15, 2010. The submittal is for 22' wide Village homes, including plans 1579, 1806, 2097 and 2210. Overall the plans nicely respond to the architectural criteria set forth in the Development Standards. The following are specific comments that should be addressed by the builder:

Plan 1579

Southern Italian

- Please identify the 3 category "A" elements used on the front elevation.

Plan 2097

Tuscan

- The Tuscan plan shows a 5' front porch element. It should be noted that in order to qualify for the required Front Outdoor Living Space, a porch element should be a minimum of 6' depth and 72 square feet. The 5' porch shown is acceptable so long as the Front Outdoor Living Space requirement (per block) is met through the use of other plans or features such as Courtyards.
- The primary roof form of Tuscan elevations should be hip rather than gable as shown.

Craftsman

- Same comment as Tuscan regarding 5' porch.
- On the Nook/Sitting option, please confirm that the front elevation contains at least 40% accent material.

Inspirada Design Review
November 19, 2010
Page 2

Plan 2216

Craftsman

- Same comment as Plan 2097, Tuscan regarding 5' porch.

Southern Italian

- Same comment as Plan 2097, Tuscan regarding 5' porch.

It is recommended that the submittal for Pod 2-3, 22 wide Village Homes (Plans 1597, 1806, and 2216) be "approved with modifications", subject to the comments above. Please do not hesitate to call if you have any questions or comments regarding this design review.

Mr. Calvin Champlin

Dear Calvin:

I have received a submittal for KB Homes Pod 1-4 via e-mail on November 15, 2010. The submittal is for 35' wide single family homes, including plans 1797, 1799, 1928, 2005, 2510, 2853, 2958 and 3161. Overall the plans nicely respond to the architectural criteria set forth in the Development Standards.

It should be noted, however, that the Development Standards require 75% of the homes per block must feature at least one Outdoor Living Space visible from the street. The Outdoor Living Space requirement for Village Homes can be met with a front porch, (min 6' depth and 72 s.f.), a courtyard (min. 6' depth and 72 s.f.) or a 2nd story balcony (min 5' depth and 60 s.f.). The submittal did not specify the housing type (Village, Estate, etc) but was reviewed as Village Homes based on the product width. If the plans are intended to be Estate Homes, the minimum dimensions for Outdoor Living Space would be greater. In any case, many of the submitted plans/elevations have front porch dimensions that are less than 6' in depth. This is acceptable as long as the Outdoor Living Space requirement is met through the sufficient plotting of plans/elevations that meet the dimensional front porch requirement, or through the use of other elements such as Courtyards.

It is recommended that the submittal for Pod 1-4, 35' wide single family homes, be "approved with modifications", subject to the comments above. Please do not hesitate to call if you have any questions or comments regarding this design review.

Sincerely,

Brent Argo

Dear Calvin:

I have received a submittal for KB Homes Pod 2-3 via e-mail on December 7, 2010. The submittal is for 24' wide Townhomes, including plans 1375, 1479, 1583, and 1787. The submittal was reviewed under the City Home category of the South Edge Development Standards. Overall the plans nicely respond to the architectural criteria set forth in the Development Standards, however, the following items should be addressed by the builder:

Building Composite (4-plex)

- When the end units are Spanish Colonial (as shown) 0" rakes are acceptable. However, buildings with end units that are Tuscan or Southern Italian require a minimum overhang of 12" for both eaves and rakes. Additionally, a hip roof (or at least some hip element) on the end condition would be preferred on these two styles, especially when the corner side elevation is exposed to a street or open space view. In any case, please provide a composite elevation showing how the Tuscan and Southern Italian elevations will appear.

Plan 1375, Tuscan "B"

- A principal window is required on the first or second floor. The plans do not show principal window.
- The decorative iron work on the front elevation should have a more "lacy" appearance to be consistent with the Development Standards. A similar decorative iron design as shown on the Tuscan courtyard wall would be appropriate.

Plan 1375, Spanish Colonial "P"

- In order to qualify as a principal window, the windows should be recessed into the over-framing so that the wall thickness is more readily discernable from the street.
