Re: Objection to claim. Gulf Coast Properties Magazine

Case # 09-07047 20

F I L E D
JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA

MAY 31 2012

CLERK, U. S. BANKRUPTCY COURT
MIDDLE DISTRICT OF FLORIDA

As the former owner of Gulf Coast Properties Magazine, I strongly disagree with the disposition and explanation thereof.

It is plainly obvious to Gulf Coast Properties Magazine and to the many other companies listed in this notice and should be to you, that we believed Home Mortgages Company and Taylor Bean & Whitaker Mortgage Corp were one -in-the -same and/ or the parent company and were never advised otherwise, by anyone, through this lengthy process.

Throughout this process, I have provided all information requested and not once has anyone come to this conclusion, until now, found that TBW is all of sudden not liable for these claims. Can ALL of these companies listed be wrong?

Due to the real estate crash in 2008 Gulf Coast Properties Magazine, a real estate and real estate related advertising magazine, has gone out of business BUT we never even attempted to cheat anyone. We paid, in full, all of our employees, vendors, suppliers and others. My husband and I went without salaries for over a year to insure we had the funds to meet our responsibilities as a business. That meant paying our bills- first!

Is not receiving the $790.00 rightly due us matter in the long term? No! But it's totally shameful that TBW/HMC can file bankruptcy and their debts just "disappear". Where is the justice? Gulf Coast Properties Magazine did not force HMC to advertise with us. HMC willingly chose to advertise and continued to place ads, even when they had to know (HMC) was in financial stress.

And may I ask, where is all the money coming from to pay the lawyers that are representing HMC/TBW?

So now, just like that, HMC/TBW is relieved of its obligations to pay what rightfully due to me and these other businesses some of which are owed hundreds of thousands of dollars!

This may be the law but it's surely not fair to those of us in business who, in this case, trusted TBW/HMC.

I can only request that the COURT reconsider my claim for monies due.

Thank you,
